Chapter 2. Badal and Moti

0332CH02

Let us read

There was a boy called Badal. He lived with his mother in a village and they were very happy. One evening, when Badal was returning from school, he saw a puppy shivering in the cold.

Badal brought him home. “Can this puppy stay with us, Maa?” asked Badal. “Yes beta, but only if you promise to take care of the puppy”, said his mother with a smile. Badal and his mother named the puppy Moti. As days went by, Moti grew up and loved Badal. They became best friends. They ate and played together. Moti followed Badal wherever he went. They played their favourite games together.

One rainy day, while Badal was on his way home from school, he slipped on the muddy lane and fell into a deep pit. He tried hard, but could not come out of the pit. Badal's mother was worried when he did not come home in time. Moti too was waiting at the gate. Badal's mother gathered the neighbours to help search for him. Moti too accompanied them.

Circle said, “I am the best! I am round and beautiful. I have no sharp edges. Children use me to draw a smiling face. There are so many beautiful things in my shape. I am the best!”

The other shapes refused to agree with the circle. Square then said, “I am the best! I have four sides and all of them are equal in size. Children eat many sweets which are square in shape. I look very beautiful and so I am the best.”

After listening to this, Triangle said in a loud voice, “I am the best! Just look at me! I am so beautiful. I have three sides. Children use me to draw mountains. They enjoy many yummy snacks in my shape. So, I am the best!”

Listening to the other three friends, Rectangle laughed aloud. “Of course not. No one can be better than me. I have four sides. Two are equally long and two are equally short. I look so beautiful. Children enjoy biscuits and chocolates in rectangle shape. They also use so many things in my shape. I am the best!” said the rectangle.

What do you think will happen now?

The friends could not decide who was the best among them. They decided to ask the first person they meet.

balls and many others. All the toys in the toy shop were waiting to see who would buy them.

“Look there,” shouted the toy kitten. They saw two girls coming towards the shop.

But they passed by just looking at the toys through the windows.

“Oh, no!” exclaimed all the toys at once.

After some time, a girl and a little boy stopped at the door of the toy shop. Their father stopped too.

The girl pointed at the board games displayed in the shop. Finally, she chose the game ‘Snakes and Ladders’.

“Ohhhh”, sighed the toys together.

Next, they saw a woman and her son coming in. There was excitement in the shop among the toys.

A talking doll said, “It would be so nice if they pick me up.”

“I would be happy if they chose me,” thought the toy elephant.

“Namaste! How may I help you?” asked the toy shopkeeper.

“Namaste! I want to buy a toy for my son,” said the woman looking at the toys in the racks.

“Aayi! I want that Vande Bharat train,” said the little boy pointing to the toy train.

What do you call your mother?

Aayi bought the Vande Bharat toy train. The little boy was happy.

Then two girls came in.

The toys looked at them eagerly.

“Zoooooooooooooooooom! Friends! I think they would like to fly me,” said the aeroplane confidently.

“Trin ... Trin ...! I think they may like to play with me,” thought the toy phone.

One girl bought marbles and the other bought the toy aeroplane.

After a while, a group of children came into the toy shop.

“Wow! I like this toy elephant,” said the girl with long hair.
